Emergency planning begins at municipal level: expert

It is important for each municipality to have its own emergency planning committee and disaster plan.

That was the message brought to a group of Haliburton County politicians and officials at a meeting Wednesday afternoon at the Minden Council Chambers. Chris Kirby, Emergency Planning Co-ordinator for Ontario and his assistant, Ken Reeve, were on hand to discuss the formation of disaster plans for the townships in the county.

The meeting had been organized by Julie Gray of Minden who has been co-ordinating efforts locally to organize a disaster plan.

Kirby emphasized that he felt it would be advisable for each municipality in the county to establish its own emergency plan. He said that any plan which covered the entire county would not be able to immediately meet the needs of a local emergency.

"With proper planning and preparations at the municipal level, the response to any emergency can be much faster," the provincial spokesman pointed out. He noted that municipal councils are the ultimate authority in cases of emergency, and so it was up to these bodies to ensure an emergency plan has been prepared for their communities.

Kirby said the municipal plans would also include an interlocking system of mutual aid, simular to that in existence with local fire departments and the Ontario Ambulance Service. "This linking will be necessary," he commented, "because in times of emergency in one community, it is likely that neighbouring communities will also be affected either by the influx of evacuees from the threatened area or in supplying assistance to the stricken area."

The provincial expert said it was up to the local municipalities to assess the resources they had within their own jurisdiction and to determine how they might best be used if the need arose. The next step would be to be aware of the resources available from neighbouring municipalities and the county and them from neighbouring counties.

"The municipality which spent some time in emergency preparation can respond quickly to these situations," Kirby commented. "They can certainly be much faster than the province or another outside agency." In this regard Kirby recommended the use of local experts and volunteer organizations. He pointed out that these people are most familiar with the community and how these services can be best used. Kirby suggested that these organizations such as the Red Cross, St. John's Ambulance and others be included in any planning that takes place.

He also advised the group to include representatives of various provincial ministries in their planning. He said that depending on the nature of the emergency, certain ministries could be called upon for assistance and if they were aware, in advance, that a disaster plan existed for a community. They could be of greater assistance, in the planning for such emergencies as well.

"The local councils need to be involved in the planning as well," Kirby stressed. He noted that it would be under their authority, or more directly the authority of the reeve, that any action is undertaken in the case of an emergency, so these people must be kept informed of planning.

He suggested that any emergency plan is only as good as it is current. "This is not a document to be drawn up and filed. It must be reviewed on a regular basis to ensure the information is accurate." For example, he said an emergency plan may contain a list of resource people to be contacted by telephone. It was important to ensure those numbers were up to date. He stressed as there would be little time to try and find the right numbers once an emergency has started.

The provincial spokesman also pointed out that the

Bat Lake rezoning rejected by OMB

The Ontario Municipal Board has rejected an application to rezone a 95 acre parcel of land on Bat Lake. The application for rezoning was made by the Township of Anson, Hindon and Minden on behalf of Joseph and Virginia Gentle who had intended to establish a trailer park on the site.

The decision by Mr. Wilkins of the OMB was handed down Tuesday morning after the hearing of evidence Monday. The hearing was held in the Minden Community Centre.

In his decision Mr. Wilkins described the application too premature and lacking in sufficient information. He was particularly concerned about the environmental impact of the trailer park development of the quality of the lake water. He said an extensive lakeshore capacity study would be needed before the rezoning could be approved.

The rezoning application had been objected to by the members of the Bat Lake Property Owners Association, who were represented by counsel. Mr. Gentle appeared on his own behalf and represented the township.

Those in opposition to the rezoning noted that the lake was small and had a slow through flow. Evidence was presented as to the oxygen level of the lake, which it was said was too low to support lake trout, but that small mouth bass could survive in the water. A letter from one MNR official which apparently supported the Gentle application was not allowed as evidence as the writer was not available for cross examination.

The municipality could be held responsible for the costs incurred at the hearing by the OMB and the objectors. An application was filed by those opposing the rezoning to have the costs assigned to the municipality. Mr. Wilkins reserved judgement on that application.

Pedestrian injured

An 81 year old resident of the Ingoldsby area was injured as he attempted to cross the county road near that community.

Fred R. Bamford was crossing the road to talk to a friend when a car crested a hill and struck the pedestrian. The vehicle, driven by John H. Francis, 74, also a resident of Ingoldsby, was unable to stop because of the icy road surface.

Bamford was taken to Haliburton Red Cross Hospital suffering from head injuries.

Constable Dennis Potter investigated the incident.

The lack of winter conditions continues to be a major topic of conversation. While it has suddenly brought a successful tourist season and much of the logging in the bush to a halt, it will apparently give those in the construction field an early start and assist them in the projects they have already underway.

Maple syrup sap producers are experiencing on again, off again sap runs as the weather teeters with indecision. It has been somewhat encouraging also to note how many visitors are still coming in spite of the weather and finding other pastimes such as hiking on the would be cross-country and snowmobile trails.

"North to Carnarvon" recording released

The Metro Carnarvon Board of Trade and Wine Tasting Society has, at many of their functions over the past year, been fortunate to obtain the services of a talented country and western band known as "Jeff Barry and the Berry Pickers". When it became known that the band was planning on cutting a record, "Metro Commissioner" Jim McLean asked if they would like to include one that he has rewritten the words to based on the old "North to Alaska" favourite.

The band liked the new version so much they not only agreed to include it, but they made it the title song of the album. The album cover sports a picture of the group perched on a rock cut along the Vankoughnet road with a Carnarvon sign in the background.

Aside from the fact that many will want the album simply because it identifies with a local scene, we can assure you the recording is also quite good and we are sure you will enjoy it.

Congratulations to "Metro Carnarvon" for pulling off another victory. The album is available for $7.00 at Riverside Garage in West Guilford, Sir Sam's Inn, Mr. Foggs, Air Haliburton, The Toronto-Dominion Bank in Minden and here at the Chamber of Commerce.

Snowmobile Association Dance & Draw

On Saturday March 21, the H.C.S.A. will be holding their big dance at the Arena in Minden featuring music by D.J.Tommy Williamson. Tickets are available for $8.00 in advance or $10.00 at the door.

The major event at this dance will be the draw for $2,000 in purchases for which tickets are still being sold. This entitles the winner to go to one or more of the advertisers in the H.C.S.A. annual directory and spend the $2,000.00 on any item he or she desires. If you haven't got a ticket yet, see any club member or pick up one at the Chamber.

With the spring-like weather it's bringing the folks out early who like to take a drive up and look around for facilities for next summer. Emergency planning public should be kept informed of the planning process, that it is taking place and that there is a plan prepared. "Some people want to hide this information from the public," he commented, "but I think it is more reassuring for them to know that consideration is being given in advance to potential emergency situations."

He suggested that the local councils establish planning committees to prepare a list of resources available within their municipality. He also proposed that the committees consider various scenarios of events that might happen and how the municipality might best react to them. "The plans that are drawn up should not be too rigid," he commented, "for inevitably the emergency will not follow what is in the book." He stressed that flexibility was necessary when responding to any emergency situation.

Meeting co-ordination, Julie Gray expressed concern that there might be some difficulty in convincing all municipal councils in the county that they needed emergency plans. She said this could hamper the effectiveness of an overall county plan that might be devised in the future.

Kirby suggested that those municipalities which do devleop plans will have to put pressure on neighbouring communities if they fail to have one.

Eakins wants more police - separate tourism ministry

John Eakins, Liberal candidate in the upcoming provincial election for this riding has identified a number of areas of concern to area electors. In an interview earlier this week with The Times the incumbent stated that he would endorse any move to lift the ceiling on manpower for the Ontario Provincial Police force and was in favour of a separate ministry responsible for tourism.

"We have to give the police (OPP) the assistance and dollars needed to do the job," he commented. "The criminal element is becoming much more sophisticated and our police forces should have the manpower to match them."

Eakins described the OPP as "understaffed" and said the freeze on manpower imposed by the provincial government in 1975 should be lifted. He also said the police should not be used as "taxi drivers" or "baby sitters" in looking after people who are waiting for trial appearances.

On tourism, the Liberal candidate said that the present Minister of Industry and Tourism, Larry Grossman, does not take the tourism portion of his ministry as seriously as he should. "It is now a $7 billion industry in this province," Eakins stated, "and it should have a higher priority." He suggested that tourism promotion could be tied more closely with a ministry dealing with cultural activities.

Eakins also said the present Conservative government has waffled on its designation of northern and southern Ontario. "Depending on which ministry you're dealing with, the line between the north and the south varies," he commented. He suggested that Haliburton County, because of its unemployment problems and resources should be considered part of northern Ontario so it can receive the benefits the provincial government has earmarked for that part of Ontario.

The Liberal MPP said the difference in Hydro rates paid by rural and urban customers should be eliminated. "In some cases the rates differ as much as 29% in Ontario while in other provinces there is no difference in the amount charged by city dwellers and country hydro users." He noted that electricity is the one energy resource which the province still has control over and that profits gained in selling hydro outside the province should be used to ease the charges paid by rural customers.

"If the Ontario government is not on its toes, the problem of acid rain could wipe out the tourism industry in this part of the province," Eakins stated. The government will have to be aggressive in influencing others to control acid pollution and in getting Ontario polluters to do the same.

Eakins also took a swipe at the education system under the Davis government. "Davis speaks of leadership, but he has shown very little when it comes to the training of our youth. There is a shortage of skilled labour in Ontario, so much so that Ontario Hydro is forced to travel to England to recruit certain employees."

The candidate challenged the contention that a member had to be on the government side of the Legislature to serve his riding well. "I feel I have given people access to Queen's Park and the various ministries and that I have been able to be of assistance in many cases," he commented. He said that kind of thinking leads to a one party system and suggested that if the Progressive Conservative candidate in this election, Dave Murray, is saying that, the PC representative in Ottawa has been ineffective for this riding.

Part of "team" important to Conservative candidate

Progressive Conservative candidate Dave Murray feels his association with Conservative leader Bill Davis and the Progressive Conservative Party of Ontario are two important factors in his election campaign. "I'm proud of Bill Davis," Murray comments. "I'm comfortable with him and feel he is the best leader for the province."

Murray made the comments during an exclusive interview with The Times last week.

He said the top priority in Victoria-Haliburton is employment. "There are programs available to increase lumbering in this part of the riding under the BILD program announced by Premier Davis," Murray pointed out. "If the industry takes advantage of these grants the employment picture will improve in the area."

Murray said that other "dry" industries could also be attracted to the area to help boost the economy. He said that the industries would have to be non-polluting and compatible with the tourist activities of the area. The candidate is a resort operator near Fenelon Falls.

"I am also concerned about the closing of CNR rail link between Lindsay and Haliburton," Murray commented. "It is more than a tourist line and should be retained."

The candidate suggested that if the CNR is given permission to abandon the line that an effort should be made to ensure the right of way remains in public hands. "Once it is broken up it will be very difficult to get it re-established," he commented.

The PC hopeful said it would be "a tragedy" if the line were closed describing its presence as an attraction to industry. Murray said the line should be retained until the mineral potential of the area is fully known.

Murray described Haliburton as a "forgotten area". "We need to have someone in Queen's Park to fight for this area. People realize that a member of the Davis team could help this entire riding," Murray stated.

The candidate said that during his travels in the riding he had found people upset with the situation in Ottawa."

"I think I am in a position to do something for the people of Victoria-Haliburton," Murray commented. "There are advantages to being on the government team."

The candidate has been a municipal councillor in the township of Fenelon Falls and has served as Warden of Victoria County.

Economy, jobs head NDP list of priorities

The Victoria-Haliburton New Democratic Party candidate Art Field has identified the economy and job security as important issues in the March 19 provincial election.

In an exclusive interview with The Times earlier this week, the NDP standard bearer referred to a recent plant closing in Lindsay as an example of the problem. "Workers have little security when large companies decide to close the doors," he commented. He said the provincial government should ensure an adequate amount of severance pay is made available to employees who lose their jobs through plant closings.

"The provincial government should also make more funds available for the promotion of tourism," Field stated. In particular he said emphasis should be placed on winter activities in the area to make tourism a year round income earner for Haliburton.

"The steam excursion train from Lindsay to Haliburton could be an important source of tourism income," the candidate stated. However, he pointed out the government should be willing to provide assistance to get the project underway. He said the large Canada's Wonderland amusement park near Maple had received support from the provincial government in the form of improved access roads. "They should also be willing to help get the steam train off the ground," he commented, noting that the amusement park could provide many potential visitors for the Highlands.

Commenting on the acid rain problem, Field noted that much of the pollution is coming from south of the Canada-U.S. border. He said that before the province can ask the American government to clean up the problem there, they should ensure the effort is being made here. Field suggested that an NDP government would make funds available to Ontario polluters to help them remove the acid causing materials from their emissions.

The candidate pointed out that if acid rain is not quickly brought under control, the tourism in the region could be seriously hurt.

Field said that if DREE funding is made available to Haliburton County it would be better used in developing tourism rather than developing industrial growth. "For as long as I have been involved in politics, close to 20 years, there has been talk about industrial development and no action," Field stated. He indicated that the emphasis should be placed on tourism, especially in this part of the riding.

The NDP candidate said he was disappointed that the candidates would not have an opportunity to debate each other in an open forum. "We have offered a number of dates but the Progressive Conservative candidate has always found his calendar to be full," Field stated.

He said the only time the three candidates will have a chance to meet face to face will be during an open line program on CKLY Radio in Lindsay. He noted however, that the questions the candidates are asked are scrutinized by members of their campaign staffs before they are aired. "If the staff member doesn't feel his candidate can answer a particular question, it never gets asked," Field stated.

Police activities

The Minden Detachment of the Ontario Provincial Police report the following activity for the period of March 2 - 8: 6 reportable motor vehicle accidents and 2 non-reportable accidents: 63 General Occurrences. (These included 5 damage complaints, 4 liquor offences, 3 break & enters and 2 impaired drivers.)

Minden trappers form district council

A trapper's council has been formed for the Minden District of the Ministry of Natural Resources. The group was organized Saturday at a special meeting held at the Minden Community Centre.

The council was created to represent the views of area trappers and provide input for decisions and other positions taken by the province-wide Ontario Trapper's Association, (OTA).

A representative of the OTA, Ken Stephenson, addressed the gathering of over 30 area trappers. He told the group that the day could come when the provincial government says they can no longer trap. Stephenson said the opposition to trapping comes from a number of sources including those who are opposed to hunting and world-wide organizations such as those which are currently protesting the seal hunt on the east coast.

"Much of what these people have to say about trapping is out and out lies and half-truths," Stephenson told the group. "We must present the truth. The message must get through, particularly to those in the city. If we don't inform them of the true nature of trapping we will lose out."

Stephenson noted that these international protest bodies have vast sums of money at their disposal. "Right now these people have three helicopters on standby in the Maritimes. They can afford it because they are supported by elderly ladies and misguided school children from large cities. The trappers will be next after they stop the sealers" he told the audience.

"Who looks after the trappers?" the spokesman asked the group. "In 310 years has the Hudson Bay Company done anything for trappers other than sell them supplies at the highest prices and charge the lowest prices for furs?" He said the 15,000 trappers in Ontario must speak with one voice if they wished to make their positions known. He pointed out that some trappers make up to $25,000 per year. "But, whether you're a hobby trapper or making a living from it, we all have one thing in common ... the love of the trapping way of life."

He told the group that a Lindsay Trapping Council was recently formed and the result has already shown itself in improved furs being shipped out of the area. He noted that the council provides a forum for area trappers to get together and exchange ideas on trapping and fur handling methods.

Several representatives of the Ministry of Natural Resources were also on hand at the meeting. Eric Mitchell, fish and wildlife co-ordinator with the local office, told the trappers the ministry is looking for new designs for traps. Following a film, showing the new leghold trap, Mitchell told the trappers that anyone with a proposal for a new trap can submit it to the ministry for consideration. A committee of experts examines the design and, if it is found to be within the criteria set out, it will be accepted. Patent rights remain the property of the individual who submitted the design. Mitchell noted the two basic criteria which the submissions are judged by is whether they are functional and humane.

The meeting was told that close to 100 designs had been submitted by trappers throughout the province.

The trappers in attendance agreed to the formation of the council to represent the Minden MNR district. They also selected an eight man board of directors and named various officers.

Heading the new organization will be Bob Wood of Minden as president. Others on the executive include Daniel Schell of Bobcaygeon, vice president, Bruce Clark of Orillia, secretary-treasurer, and directors Hugh Taylor of Minden, Ken Clark of Washago, George MacDonald of Sebright, B. Windover of Buckhorn, and Frank Dewey of Gooderham.

The trappers agreed to a $5 membership fee to cover expenses.

The representatives of the Ministry of Natural Resources pledged their support of the new organization.

Ken Stephenson of the OTA and Bob Wood, president of the local trappers' council.

Fire destroys two cottages

Two cottages in Stanhope Township were destroyed by fire during the past week.

The first incident occurred Friday afternoon on the east shore of Kushog Lake. Members of the Stanhope department were called to the scene at about 2:30 p.m.

The log cottage, owned by a Mr. Rednich of Weston, was being used by a number of people when the fire broke out. The occupants had been skiing in the area.

The brigade had to travel close to a mile on private road and carry a portable pump and hose 1200 feet before being able to battle the flames.

Fire chief George Wilson said the roof had already collapsed into the flames by the time the brigade arrived on the scene.

No estimate of damage was available.

The second blaze took place Sunday evening on the north shore of Maple Lake. A cottage owned by Leon Dragon and Olgierd Chichowski, close to the Maple Sands Lodge, was destroyed in the blaze.

Once again the Stanhope brigade used portable pumps to bring the flames under control.

According to police, the cottage had been visited earlier in the day by one of the owners.

The owners of the cottage have been involved in a widely-publicized court battle with an adjacent cottager over their right to use the 66 foot shore allowance. A ruling in the case last summer favoured the Dragon and Cichowski side of the dispute.

Police and fire officials are continuing their investigation into the incident. According to a police spokesman, there was no indication that any of the neighbouring cottages had been visited recently.

Editorial

Time for a change

It is time for a change at Queen's Park.

The Progressive Conservative Party has been in control of the provincial government for the past 38 years, probably close to record in the annals of Canadian politics. And, while in general the PCs have overseen 38 years of steady growth in the province, during the last few years a number of specific incidents have indicated they have held the reins of power far too long.

The province's economy is in trouble. Plant closings are draining the lifeblood out of small and medium size communities while provincial authorities throw good money after bad in attempts to rescue large floundering corporations or multinationals whose need, to say the least, is questionable. The downturn has been accompanied by a matching increase in unemployment.

Premier William Davis has found himself to be one of only two provincial leaders who back the federal government's constitutional power grab. He also finds himself in close proximity with the Ottawa leaders on the repressive oil policy. In both cases, polls have indicated that voters in Ontario, and in most other provinces, are opposed to the unilateral and heavy-handed policy making coming from Ottawa. The Davis government has opted to throw provincial rights to the wind and support an oil policy which will only further divide this nation.

After 38 years, the PCs have become complacent on the throne of power in Toronto. They are not there by divine right, but often they act as if they are. For example, the attempt by the province to ram through a toxic waste dump site in South Cayuga has drawn the wrath of all sectors of the province and focused international attention on a government that refuses to follow the environmental guidelines it lays down for others.

It is time for fresh ideas at Queen's Park, time for new ideas and a critical analysis of where this province stands and where it is headed. It is time the Ontario voters selected a Liberal government for Queen's Park.

Dr. Stuart Smith has proven himself to be a capable and able leader. His capabilities show him to be a reasonable alternative to what the Conservatives have been able to offer. During the campaign he has presented a program that, while not taking the province's management too far from the centrist course, offers options that have been rejected or ignored by the present government.

Locally, John Eakins has been a capable and hard working representative. He is concerned about local issues and willing to take a stand when needed. His job has been a difficult one but he has been able to represent the riding well and deserves the voters support once again.

Our call for change at the provincial level is not one of change for change sake. We feel that new directions, new ideas and new leaders are going to be required if this province is going to regain its position of prominence in the final two decades of this century. We believe that those new directions can only be found by wiping the 38 year old slate clean and electing a Liberal government March 19.

Report from Parliament

by William C. Scott, M.P.

Both Houses of our federal Parliament are still locked in bitter debate over Prime Minister Trudeau's proposed new constitution, and all other business of the country has been put on the shelf.

Many serious problems facing our country are not getting the attention they should have if Canadians are to be well served by their elected representatives.

Apart from the fact that the consitutional debates are creating deep divisions in our country, between provinces and regions and between the racial groupings in our society, serious economic problems are presenting a threat to our standard of living.

There is evidence to suggest that our bitter wrangling over the constitution, and lack of attention to our internal problems, is giving foreign governments a jaundiced view of Canada. A few years ago we were looked upon as one of the big five among Western nations, but today we seem to be regarded as a country that doesn't know where it is going.

Trudeau's tabling of his constitutional proposal in the House of Commons was a colossal blunder, and so was his hastily-put-together energy policy. The government's energy policy has resulted in a cutback in exploration and drilling for oil in Canada, which in turn has resulted in an exodus of drilling companies from our western provinces to the United States.

Last year the Liberals defeated the Conservative government on a promise not to allow gasoline prices to rise by eighteen cents per gallon, which was what we had proposed. In the year that they have been back in power the Liberal government has raised gasoline prices by 40 cents per gallon.

The federal government has a responsibility to develop and implement policies that will stimulate our economy, increase production, create new jobs and reduce internal tensions and strife.

If the constitutional debates are preventing the government from devoting the time and effort needed to promote these measures, then the constitution issue should be set aside. Our Canadian nation has been well served by the British North America Act for 114 years, and it will continue to serve us for as long as it takes to restore our economy and then to arrive at a consensus on a new constitution.

The sounds of an impending election are all around us - the jangling jingles that probe new lows in advertising schlock; the weary drone of endless speeches; the tramp of candidates trudging door-to-door through the slush. All these activities are aimed at cajoling the votes of the likes of you and I; but what if our feathered friends could exercise a vote as well?

Would Bill Davis match his BILD program with another known as BIRD? Would Stuart Smith campaign on the need for better birdhouses, and promise the robins that Liberal lawns would be greener? Would Michael Cassidy attend the flocking of the International Blackbird Union, and seek birdhouse rent control for the sparrows, finches, and all other working birds?

The promises, no doubt, would be tempting. A new bird-bath on every block. In certain key ridings, a special new high-technology bird-bath heater, manufactured right here in Ontario. Nuts and raisins legislated into every pound of bird seed. Even the promise of favourable winds during migration periods.

Parts of the bird constituency vote by tradition, of course. The golden eagles, paragons of the business world, naturally lean towards the Torys. And how else could the Great Grey Owls, aloof and watchful, vote except conservative? The sophisticated warblers, whose flashing wings could enliven any disco, find Dr. Smith an attractive choice. Not so the grackles, whose labour leanings traditionally support the NDP.

The blue jays vote as individuals, but not until after they have fiercely decried all of the candidates. The wrens chatter endlessly, but can never quite make up their minds. And the starlings simply continue their scuffling in the garbage, too apathetic to even heed the glowing promises of a better future.

Perhaps it's just as well birds can't vote. Given the state of politics in Ontario even now, just imagine how much worse things could become if the politicians could admit that their promises really were aimed at bird-brains!

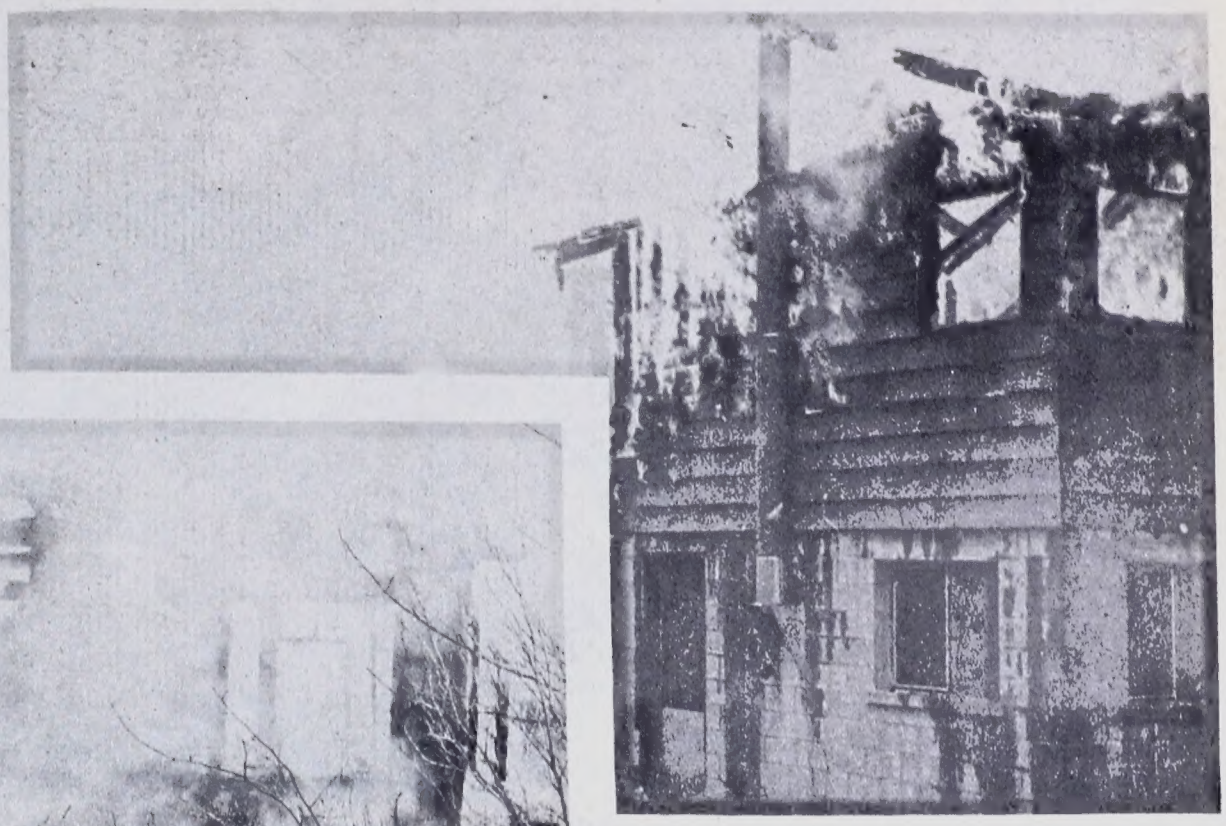
Blaze destroys Lutterworth home

Fire destroyed the home of James and Barbara Todd Saturday afternoon. The structure, located on Highway 121 South, was engulfed in flames when the Minden Fire Department arrived on the scene. Mrs. Todd was the only one home at the time of the blaze and suffered minor burns.



Minden Fire Chief Deac Jackson said the brigade was hampered by the lack of water supply on the scene and the fact the fire was well established by the time the brigade arrived. Attempts to draw water from a nearby swamp proved to be fruitless.

The fire brigade was on the scene until 5:30.

Damage has been estimated at over $60,000.

Special provisions will assist handicapped voters

Special provisions are available to make it easier for handicapped voters to cast their ballot in Ontario's 32nd general election.

Qualified electors, who cannot attend a polling place through illness or physical disability and are so certified by a doctor, may vote by proxy. Or, they may choose to vote at an advance poll which offers level access or ramps to accommodate wheel chairs.

Proxy voting allows the disabled voter to appoint another qualified elector to cast the ballot on polling day. Individuals acting as proxy must be on the voters list in the same electoral district. A proxy voter may act for more than one relative, but only one non-relative.

A voter wishing to vote by proxy may obtain a proxy form from any Returning Officer, but the completed form must be certified by the Returning Officer in the voter's own electoral district. The deadline for certifying proxies is 7:00 p.m., March 18, the day prior to polling day.

Advance polls, featuring level access or ramps, provide the handicapped or elderly voter with an alternative to proxy voting. Advance poll days are scheduled for Thursday, March 12, Saturday, March 14 and Monday, March 16.

Ballots for the blind

A series of notches on ballots used in the 32nd Ontario General Election will make it easier for qualified voters who are blind to cast their ballots without special assistance.

Ballots used in Ontario elections are printed in black with each candidate's name appearing in white. A white circle to the right of the candidate's name and along the edge of the ballot, is reserved for the voter to mark his or her choice.

To facilitate the blind voter, a small notch has been cut into the top edge at the upper right-hand corner of the ballot which will enable a blind voter to properly align the ballot face up with the circles on the right. A notch has also been cut beside each white circle down the right side of all ballots.

With candidates' names printed alphabetically and numbered, the blind voter may have a friend or poll official read all the names in order as they appear on the ballot.

Those blind voters who require other assistance may apply to the Deputy Returning Officer in the polling place. The Deputy Returning Officer, in accordance with the Ontario Election Act, may also assist the voter to mark the ballot. A provision in election legislation also makes it possible for a friend of the voter, under oath to carry out the blind voter's wishes, to accompany that person through the voting process.

Help keep the promise of Ontario. Elect a Davis government.

Ontario is rich in promise. We have the people, the resources, the initiative and the vitality to make Ontario the envy of the world. But promises do not fulfill themselves. To build the future we need strength and leadership. Premier Bill Davis has demonstrated that leadership. He has shown that he has the understanding and the vision to identify the priorities in Ontario's future and to take the vigorous action needed to capitalize on them.

The Davis Government's new B.I.L.D. plan is a comprehensive economic program, designed to stimulate the economy, create jobs and to realize Ontario's future potential.

The B.I.L.D. program provides for the necessary planning and assistance to create growth in all the following areas of activity: energy independence, development of resources, including farming and forestry: industry: human resources, with new emphasis on training for skilled and professional employment: transportation and communications: tourism: every aspect of Ontario's economic life. And the B.I.L.D. program is backed by the solid performance of the Davis government in economic activities which have created new Ontario jobs at the average rate of 100,000 per year for the last five years.

Ontario needs the strength and experience of Premier Bill Davis as its leader. On March 19th, you will have your chance to support the B.I.L.D. program, to keep the promise of Ontario through your support of your Davis candidate.

On March 19th, elect your Davis candidate. Vote Progressive Conservative. PC

Your PC candidate in Victoria-Haliburton

The Right Reverend Desmond C.Hunt, Suffragan Bishop for Trent-Durham Region, Anglican Diocese of Toronto greets the new incumbent of the Minden and area Anglican parish, Reverend George Elliott, right. Members of all congregations in the three point charge, friends from Toronto and clergy from Haliburton churches were on hand for the installation. Reverend Elliott moved to the area in early January.

Three advance polls

Three advance polls will be held prior to normal polling day on March 19 for Ontario's 32nd general election.

Advance polling will be carried out on March 12, March 14 and March 16 - between 11:00 a.m. and 8:00 p.m. each day.

Advance polls are for the convenience of qualified voters whose names appear on the polling lists for their polling divisions and who expect to be unable to vote on election day. Voters are reminded that they may use any advance poll in their electoral district.

They are located in places offering level access or ramps so that elderly or physically handicapped voters may find it easier to vote.

Advance polls will be located at Hyland Crest in Minden and the Legion in Haliburton.

For every 3 babies born alive in Ontario 1 is killed before birth. It is legal to do away with a baby up to the time it is born naturally. At 43 days after conception - a time when a woman wonders if she is going to miss her second period, and for the first time a pregnancy test is considered reliable - the baby's heart is beating and brainwaves can be detected. At 12 weeks a baby is complete in all essential details and does nothing more than grow for the next 6 months.

Bringing back the luster

Restoring furniture can be fun, satisfying and inexpensive, say crafts specialists from the Ontario Ministry of Agriculture and Food. Following a few simple rules will make the task easier, even for a beginner.

Secondhand furniture can be found at garage sales, auctions, secondhand stores, model homes or antique stores. Before purchasing, consider the design, type of wood, where it will be used in the home, whether it matches the present decor and if there are additional costs for repair work. If repair work is needed, can it be done at home, and how much time is required to complete the piece of furniture.

Supplies are needed to remove the old finish and to prepare the surface for the new finish. When selecting a finish, consider the type of furniture, the wear it will receive and the desired finished look – glossy, matte, antique, painted or stained. A reputable paint dealer will advise you on quality products and methods. Basic supplies required are brushes, drop cloths of old shower curtain liners, old sheets or newspapers, sandpaper, scrapers, steel wool, gloves and glasses. Organizing these supplies will save time and protect yourself and your home.

When preparing the furniture for refinishing, examine the surface for soil, dents, grease stains or other damage. Fill holes, remove stains, sand rough surfaces until clean and smooth, tighten screws, re-glue loose arms, legs and joints, and remove any hardware.

Before you begin, create a working space where you can leave your work undisturbed.

Provide good ventilation by opening doors or windows since various chemicals may be flammable or toxic.

Temperatures should be moderate since extremes of hot and cold affect chemicals. Natural light is needed when mixing and applying stains.

For successful refinishing, follow instructions closely and allow sufficient time for drying between coats.

Refinishing increases the beauty,utility and value of furniture, and can be less expensive than purchasing new furniture. Refinishing can also be very rewarding.

Juveniles win tournament

It was the first juvenile tournament sponsored by Minor Hockey, so it was only right that the Minden team should take the championship trophy with three straight wins.

The tournament was played Saturday at the local arena and involved eight teams from various centres in the area. Minden showed top form to capture the Dollo's I.G.A. trophy.

The Minden team trounced Baysville 10-0 in the first game, dumped St. Andrew's of Peterborough 7-1 in the semi-final leading to the championship and clinched the trophy with a 6-2 win over St.Giles, also of Peterborough.

The series opened for the Minden team with a rather lopsided shut-out of the Baysville entry. Shaun Silvers led the way for the Minden squad netting three goals and an assist. Kevin Shapiera scored a pair of goals, one of them unassisted and was credited with an assist on another. Pete Johnson also notched a pair for the home team. Other Minden marksmen included Ivan Ingram with one and one; and Rick Beeney with a goal. Assists were awarded to Les Booth, Dave Lennie and Warren Mann each with a pair and Greg Carpenter with a single.

Duane Lennie, between the pipes for Minden, takes credit for the shut-out.

If the first game was somewhat of a one-sided affair, it was also a noteworthy contest by the fact that not one penalty was assessed against either team.

While there were no penalties in the first Minden game, the second proved to be a rougher contest. The scoresheet became a confused muddle and the number of penalties assessed to the St. Andrew's team is unknown. The Minden Juveniles were handed 19 minutes in penalties and Shaun Silvers picked up a game misconduct.

Kevin Shapiera again led the Juveniles in the attack, claiming two goals and four assists. The other five goals were shared by Dave Lennie, Pete Johnson, Rick Choy, Bret Austin and Ivan Ingram. Assists were credited to Shaun Silvers, Les Booth and Casey Cox.

The championship game pitted the Minden squad against St. Giles, a team which had not lost a game in regular season play.

The first period was scoreless.

After St. Giles opened the scoring in the second frame, Minden responded with four goals to establish an unbeatable lead. Ivan Ingram scored from Warren Mann and Pete Johnson; it was Rick Beeney from Ingram and Casey Cox; Kevin Shapiera from Dave Lennie and Greg Carpenter; and Lennie from Mann and Shapiera.

Les Booth added another in the third period on a pass from Shapiera. St. Giles scored again before Shapiera notched the final goal of the tournament, an unassisted effort.

It is interesting to note that the team was presented with the I.G.A. trophy as it was this local business which just a few years ago, contributed funds to purchase sweaters for the senior team in the Minden Minor Hockey organization.

Players and several minor hockey officials also enjoyed the hospitality of Diane and Don Booth who act as co-managers for the team. They treated the team to turkey supper before the final game Saturday evening.

The consolation series was won by Bobcaygeon who were presented with the Easton's Foodmaster trophy. Both champion and consolation champs also received individual medals for their efforts.

The following is a breakdown of the tournament play:

First round: Minden 10 - Baysville 0; St. Andrew's 5 - Fenelon Falls 3; Cannington 3 - Sacred Heart; St. Giles 5 - Bobcaygeon 4.

Championship semi-finals: Minden 7 - St. Andrew's 1; St. Giles 5 - Cannington 1. Final round: Minden 6 - St. Giles 2.

Consolation semi-finals: Baysville 3 - Fenelon 2; Bobcaygeon 4 - Sacred Heart 1; Consolation championship Bobcaygeon 3 - Baysville 1.

Monday's activities began with fun and fitness in the morning. Several residents gathered in the auditorium to enjoy a program of fun and exercising to music. The fun and fitness program is meant to keep the minds and bodies of the aged active, and is held Monday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday.

Crafts is held Monday and Wednesday afternoon on a regular basis and we're very proud of the work our ladies do. They have just completed a lovely hand-made quilt and are working on another.

In the evening on Monday two very interesting films were shown in the auditorium. The first, "A Matter of Attitudes" was filmed in Toronto. We saw the damage the factories are doing to Lake Ontario. The water is so badly polluted that people cannot swim in it anymore.

"A Tribute to W.B. Yeates" was W.B. Yeates' life story which was very interesting to many of our residents.

Tuesday morning, Rev. George Elliott of Minden Anglican Church held an inspiring service in the Chapel. Norma Barron played the organ for us during the service.

Later in the afternoon a Bingo game was held in the main lounge for all our Bingo lovers. We have many residents here who thoroughly enjoy and look forward to the game.

In the evening Earle Cooper was here for Music Night. The residents enjoyed an evening of toe-tapping music and look forward to the next Music Night.

Wednesday evening the Hyland Crest Auxiliary members were here to assist at Games Night. Residents and volunteers played euchre, crokinole, poker, scrabble and cribbage. A fun night was had by all.

Thursday's tea party was served by Lochlin U.C.W. They brought sandwiches, fruit loaf and cookies. It was a delicious lunch. Our thanks to the ladies for a real nice afternoon.

Friday afternoon, the World Day of Prayer was held in our auditorium. Many people from all denominations joined with native American Indian Women lifting their voices in praise and prayer to the Great Spirit. It is especially nice that their Day of Prayer is held in our home where it is convenient for the residents to attend.

At this point I would like to say a few words in answer to the editorial which was published in last week's Haliburton County Echo.

It is true that there are close to 60 employees at Hyland Crest. What the editor neglected to mention was that nearly half of these are part-time, and that the home has to be staffed 24 hours a day.

The residents of Hyland Crest have excellent care and the majority are happy and contented in their environment. If you don't believe me, why not ask them?

The editor states, and I quote, "And it (the public) is also not unaware that recreational opportunities for the residents are limited, and that the Home's bus seldom moves from the parking lot."

I'm sorry, but I must disagree. First of all the recreational program is not limited as I'm sure you can see by the preceding column. Also all activities are reported to the public every week through the Senior League column. As for the bus not leaving the yard, that too is false. There have been, and will be many outings planned with the bus.

True, the bus is not used much in the wintertime, but what the public and obviously the editor does not understand is that the residents of Hyland Crest are the aged. It is by their own choice that they do not wish to go out in the cold or travel on snow-covered and slippery roads.

By the way, I didn't mention all the special activities that go on at Hyland Crest for the benefit of the residents, such as the Christmas Concert, the Over 70's Dinner, the formal dinner, Fun Day, Punch & Crackers night, Bazaars, just to mention a few.

We would appreciate it if the editor would retract his statement regarding Hyland Crest activities which were printed in the March 2 issue of the Haliburton County Echo.

Women of all denominations gathered at the Hyland Crest auditorium Friday to mark the World Day of Prayer. The service, written by North American Native women, was one of many held across the country.

Letters from Lee

Lee Potter is a local high school student who is spending a year in Mexico as an exchange student. Her visit is co-ordinated by Rotary International and sponsored by the Minden Rotary Club. Lee has agreed to share her experiences with our readers through the letters she sends home to her family. The following are excerpts taken from a letter sent January 18.

Well, I've started at my new school. The first day I was very nervous, but it turned out well in the end. The other students in my class are very nice. The same group takes each subject together so everyone becomes very close and spend all our spare time together...My new friends help with my Spanish as do my teachers.

I will be going on a trip to southern Mexico with my class. They call it a study trip as it takes place just before examinations, but they do not do any studying.

My classes here are all very difficult except for Ingles, but I spend that class translating what is being taught in English into Spanish. My other subjects include math, literature, philosophy, psychology, law, anatomy, chemistry, physics, government and English. The course I am in is designed for those studying to be doctors. Each course is set out to lead to a particular occupation.

In the new school, instead of initiation day they have a custom where all first year students (male) have their hair cut off. They catch them, hold them down and using knives, cut their hair off as short as a brush cut. They do the same to the girls, but not as short. Luckily all of the exchange students were put into the second year. It is a tradition that goes back many years.

The Ateneo is the oldest and biggest school in Saltillo. It is really beautiful.

On Friday one of the classes presented a Music Revista and Subasta. It is like a little show with dancing and singing. The idea was to make money for their study trip and at the end of the presentation there was an auction at which they sell usually the most popular guys in the school. The girls bid on them and, once purchased, they become a slave for a day. It is lots of fun and the class makes a lot of money for their trip.

Yesterday we got snow ... they say it was the first time in 10 years it snowed here. A friend called at the house and when I went out to greet them I stood spellbound. I yelled "Snow!" when I saw what was outside and I think everyone thought I was a little weird. It was about three in the afternon and the snow had been there all day, but nobody had told me about it. My family had been talking about snow at the dinner table and they asked me how much we got in Canada and they never told me there was some outside. I find I miss the Canadian snow and winter very much. It was nice to have a taste of it here to remind me of home.

Last week my father's new race horse ran its first race in Saltillo and won. He came home very pleased with a bag full of prize money. I'm not sure exactly how much he won, but he bought my sister and brother each a used pick-up truck. We celebrated at home with champagne.

Michele and I are going on a trip down south as I told you earlier. Her father has a travel agency in Toronto and we will be staying with friends of his in Acapulco and Mexico City. We'll be visiting other cities on our own. It should be lots of fun and I'm looking forward to it.

Adios for now.

Lines from Lutterworth

by Jean Lacey

Hi! Another nice weekend. This kind of weather will bring up the visitors.

Bill and Jean Porter from Oshawa spent the weekend with Bill's mother, Mrs. Lillian Porter.

Mrs. Lillian Porter and Mrs. Freda Harrison went to Sturgeon Falls to visit her sister and bring her mother, Mrs. Jean Johnson from Englehart, to stay with her for a while.

Sorry to hear Frank Bowron is in Minden hospital. Hope he is up and around soon.

Mrs. Lewis is back home again after spending a few days in Oakville with her mother, Mrs. Bedlington.

So sorry to hear Hilda Kieckhoefer's mother passed away. Our prayers and sympathies are with her and her family.

Kevin, Ruby and Ross were down from Haliburton visiting with Kevin's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ken Bowron.

The Dunsfords spent Wednesday in Toronto, with Anne visiting her daughter, Sandy and Frank taking in the car show at the Skyline Hotel.

Jim and Jo Oatman with their children, Joshua and Crystal were up from Shelburne visiting for the weekend.

Saturday I saw two small boys playing under the bridge in town. That is not a safe place to play. It wouldn't take much for a child to slip into the river. In this weather they wouldn't last too long. So please children, find a safe place to play and live to grow up.

Heard there was a fire on Highway 121 on Saturday, with nothing being saved. Such a tragedy for the Todd family.

What do you get when you cross a canary with a lion?

I don't know either, but when it comes over to sing you'd better listen.

Why can't you tell a secret to a pig?

Because he is a squealer.

If you had a referee in the game of football, and an umpire in cricket, what do you have in bowls?

Mutual Life of Canada

Memorial Fund

Contributions to this Fund in memory of:

Rod Gorveatt Jeff Hutchings
Penny Pripp Wendy Schell

have been received since November, 1980 from coast to coast from relatives, friends, students and teachers.

The Fund now totals $3,500; however, it will remain open for those who wish to make future contributions.

The money in the Fund will be invested to provide for four $75 annual scholarships in perpetuity in memory of each of the four students. The awards will be given on the basis of general proficiency to graduates of Grade 12 or 13 who proceed to further education at a College of Applied Arts & Technology.

On behalf of the families, I wish to sincerely thank everyone who has contributed to the Fund.
